Story Text:

1. This story starts on a stormy day when the Luna siblings bickered, each demanding their way.
2. Nico, Dani, and Max simply could not agree on the next big vacation for the Luna family.
3. Nico demanded luxury and nothing less, setting his sights on only the best.
4. Dani's desires were sporty and clear. She wanted to go where fans would cheer.
5. Max dreamed of thrills and adventures further that he could enjoy with Sammy, the surfer!
6. But there was not one place with each passion provided, leaving the three stiff, stubborn, and divided.
7. Their fighting was endless. It was too much to handle! Mom and Dad had no choice. The vacation was canceled!
8. The siblings were sad, tears ready to pour, but before they could cry, there was a knock at the door.
9. Grandpa Finn appeared with no invitation. He had sensed something wrong with no indication.
10. To Grandpa Finn, their mother lamented, "If only the perfect place could be invented!"

11. Responding, he said, “No worries, my dear. I’ll work my magic and make your problems disappear.”
12. So began the adventure of Nico, Dani, and Max, now on the road, with a tank full of gas.
13. As Grandpa Finn drove to a location unknown, he proudly recounted adventures of his own.
14. His tales of expeditions, art, and excitement galore were all what he called “life’s encores.”
15. According to Finn, you’ll recognize one when “you want to do something again and again!”
16. He continued to stress that while expectations are met, “there’s a key to life’s encores you shouldn’t forget.”
17. Alas, the kids did not hear it; they were heavy in thought, dreaming up their own encores, hoping that’s where they’re brought.
18. Eventually, they parked – their destination revealed! They weren’t at an encore... just an empty field.
19. Though the rain was still pouring, they got out to look. It was then that Finn spotted a bizarre, glowing book.
20. Finn examined its pages - untouched and still dry - and presented his grandkids colors to apply.
21. The kids turned away. Confused, they moped. They did not want to draw – especially soaked!
22. With a big smirk, Finn drew on the white, knowing what comes next would surely excite.
23. Once he was done, Finn cheered with zeal as a huge gust of magic turned his drawing real!
24. As Finn’s clubhouse appeared, three jaws hit the floor! Each kid tore a page for their separate encore.
25. Apart, they each drew, but no drawing transformed. With every failed draft, their frustration stormed.

26. Watching his grandkids, Finn knew at his core it was time to share what he tried to before.
27. By resharing the key, Finn ended their rage. “When it comes to life’s encores, you must be on the same page.”
28. Now having listened, the three worked as a team to draw up shared encores – their collective new dream.
29. First focusing on Max and Sammy, his bear, they created a water park with epic fun flair!
30. With Dani in mind, their active sides soared as they drew sporty spaces to play, bond, and score!
31. And Nico’s eye for luxury was not put to waste when they created restaurants with his incredible taste.
32. With magic sprawling and imaginations untamed, the Luna siblings drew till only one page remained.
33. In the spirit of sharing, the three went together and gave Finn the page in the now sunny weather.
34. Finn smiled with pride. His plan was no goof! So he drew a place for his family to stay – all under one roof!
35. The magic home appeared, and so did many more. Now countless families could stay and experience encores!
36. With Mom and Dad’s arrival, Finn was happy to report that the kids worked together to create “Encore Resort!”
37. This happy story ends with a Luna family celebration in the perfect place to go when it’s time to vacation!
